OPEN CALL FOR APPLICANTS FROM DETROIT

Cultural Innovation, Leadership and Collaboration: A Global Platform

October 22 – 27, 2019 | Salzburg, Austria

Salzburg Global Seminar invites young cultural innovators based in Detroit to apply for the 6th annual session of the Young Cultural Innovators Forum, generously supported by the Kresge Foundation.

ABOUT THE YOUNG CULTURAL INNOVATORS FORUM

The Young Cultural Innovators (YCI) Forum is a ten-year program designed to nurture the current generation of young cultural innovators through capacity building, mentoring, and global networking. The network is multi-disciplinary and encompasses creative disciplines ranging from the visual and performing arts, literature, and cultural heritage, to foods, fashion, architecture, and design.

The YCI Forum aims to empower the creative sector as a catalyst of economic, social and urban transformation around the globe by linking individuals and communities connected to the program with one another through programs in Salzburg, follow-up events, inter-hub exchanges, cross-border projects, and other activities.

THE PROGRAM IN SALZBURG

The YCI Forum offers an opportunity for three participants from Detroit to be part of an intensive program taking place at Schloss Leopoldskron in Salzburg, Austria, from October 22 to 27, 2019. Combining theory and practice, with keynote presentations focusing on “big picture” issues facing the cultural sector and with skills-building sessions on entrepreneurial thinking; human-centered design processes; strategic planning and organizational development; and leadership and values. Selected participants will receive a full scholarship to participate in the YCI program, including the session fee, room and board, and travel costs.

THE YCI HUB APPROACH

With the annual program in Salzburg as its cornerstone, the YCI Forum is structured around a network of YCI Hubs in cities and regions around the world. Each year, up to five YCIs from many of these hubs are selected to join the program in Salzburg. After the Salzburg program, participants continue working together at the local level in their YCI Hub, while also remaining in touch with wider global YCI network worldwide.

Founder, Black Girl MATHgic
YCI Fellow 2018

“YCI was pure magic, and the beauty of magic lies in its mystery, the inability for the human mind to fully explain the phenomena that just occurred. The connections, the relationships, the workshops, the peer mentoring groups, the facilitators, the SGS team -- all converged to create something that was truly transformative and beautiful for me.”

Lauren Rossi
Studio Manager, Tiff Massey Studios
YCI Fellow 2017

“I brought with me from the YCI Forum, huge and beautiful, the experience of sharing time, space, ideas and hours, with forty people from almost all continents working on projects and organizations in which art and culture are essential tools for social transformation.”

Sebastian Jackson
Founder & Co-Owner,

YCI Fellow 2017

“My mental health is extremely important to me. This seminar helped me take the time to be mindful. Being a Young Cultural Innovator made it safe to be honest with our selves. The seminar made it safe to look and feel deeply for our own lives and the lives of others. I now understand what it means to have a deeply human experience.”

Shelley Danner
Co-founder & Program Director, Challenge Detroit
YCI Fellow 2016

“The seminar was very enriching and has catalyzed the cultivation of a global network of innovators of which I am so excited to be involved in. Highlights included having meaningful conversations with other participants about their initiatives and the cultural landscape of their home cities.”
